and south

Spirit animal
of Marnia: Bear

4 seasons,
long cold winters and occasional typhoons

People rely on fishing and farming

The people of Marnia loathe any technology built after the 1700s. The harsh sea environment surrounding Marnia is only conquerable by the skilled inhabitants.

Marnia's inhabitants are forced to live a nomadic lifestyle to support the farming and fishing lifestyle.

Marnia is a feudal state ruled by the few owners of the horses on the island.
The others are forced to fight in the Marnian wars in exchange for farming land.

40% women and 60% men on Marnia.
The women are used as a currency as well.
Because of the difference between men and women, many young men are single.
So this huge amount of manpower leads to the several Marnian Wars.
